As a member of our team, your responsibilities will include:

- Application of a variety of visual effects such as particle systems, 3D projection mapping, plate cleanup, rig/wire removal, etc.
- Working with the 3D teams to ensure proper handoff of assets/passes/mattes and in some cases, being responsible for those assets yourself
- The ability to roll up your sleeves, step outside your comfort zone, and do whatever it takes to deliver high quality product to our clients on time and within budget.

REQUIREMENTS

This role requires 3-5 years of experience in The Foundry's NUKE, Adobe After Effects, and familiarity with industry-leading 3D animation packages, 3ds Max being preferred. You should be up on the latest industry trends and always be sharpening your skills. Special consideration will be given to candidates with experience in Python scripting and custom tool creation. 2D and 3D motion graphics abilities are a plus as well.

At Neoscape we pride ourselves in our ability to jump in and help out wherever help is needed. Aside from your core responsibilities, you will likely be asked to assist with shoots, on-set VFX supervision, and any number of tasks related to the post-production process.

Beyond all technical know-how, we are looking for artists who are excellent communicators, team players, problem solvers, and all-around good people. We also have a great benefits package—and a kegerator.
